ESMT Berlin: 38th globally in the Financial Times Top MBAs for entrepreneurship 2018

ESMT Berlin has been ranked 38th in the Financial Times global ranking of the top 50 MBA programs for entrepreneurship 2018. The ranking shows that 18% of ESMT full-time MBA graduates started their own company. ESMT places second internationally in the category female entrepreneurs, with 44% of the student entrepreneurs being women.

The ESMT MBA program is an international one-year program focusing on technology and innovation management, global sustainable business, and entrepreneurship. ESMT accepts up to 70 talented professionals every year to join the intense program that runs from January to December on campus in Berlin, Germany. The program has a strong international orientation with an average of 90% international students and almost 80% international members in the faculty.

Financial Times Top 50 MBA programs for entrepreneurship are based on the Global MBA ranking 2018 that was published in January 2018. More information about the Financial Times ranking may be found here:
